CMHA

School of Nursing

1991-1992

In Biblical times, the Tree of Life represented Man's opportunity to obtain immortality. Throughout the ages it became a symbol of hope and rejuvenation. Today, because of its seasonal growth and renewal the tree has come to symbolize preservation and regeneration of life--to which the Charlotte Mecklenburg Hospital Authority is dedicated.

Dedication

*If I can stop one heart from breaking,
I shall not live in vain;
If I can ease one life the aching,
Or help one fainting robin
Unto his nest again,
I shall not live in vain.*

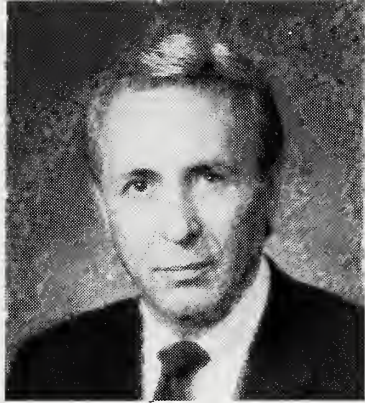

Emily Dickinson

May your courage carry you through the hidden valleys of life

Class of '92

Dear Class of 1992:

It is with a great deal of pride that I congratulate each of you on your graduation. As the inaugural class of the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Hospital Authority School of Nursing, you have played a vital role in establishing the high standards of this academic institution.

Each of you has a different reason for entering nursing, but your common bond is a desire to serve humanity. To realize this dream, you have, no doubt, made certain sacrifices over these past two years. The dream is now a reality.

The nursing profession has an honorable and inspiring history. You are now its future. I charge you to carry on the tradition with all the skills, knowledge, and dedication to excellence that symbolize the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Hospital Authority.

Respectfully,

Philosophy

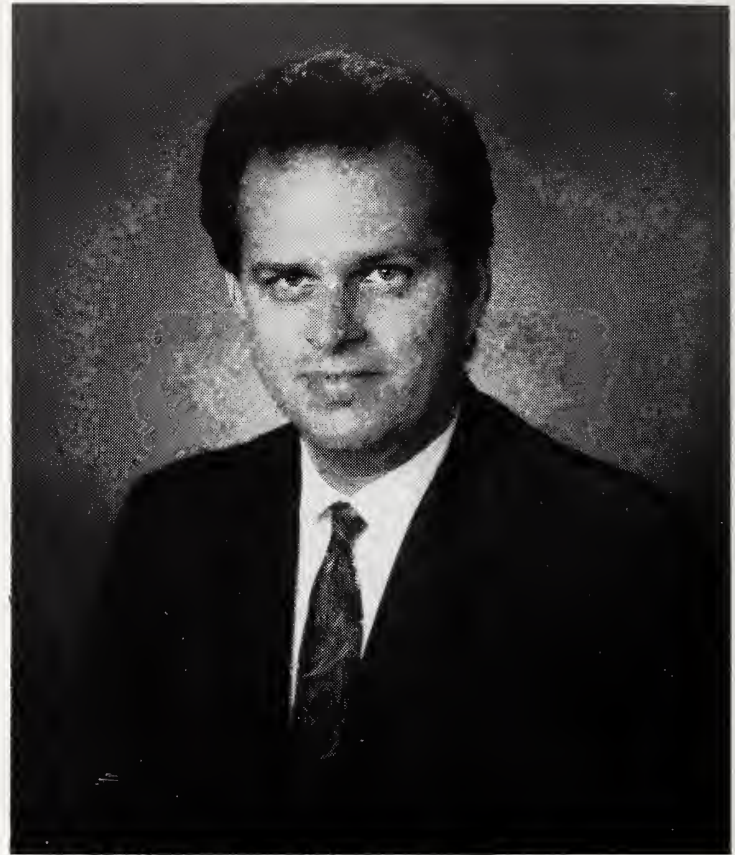

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg Hospital Authority School of Nursing was established in 1990 to meet the community's growing need for registered nurses. This two-year associate degree nursing program combines the academic resources of the University of North Carolina at Charlotte with the rich clinical environments at Carolinas Medical Center and other CMHA facilities.

The School of Nursing supports CMHA's commitment to the improvement of health through education, research, and the delivery of high quality health care services. This academic health sciences environment combines caring, compassion, and skill with advances in health care technology in meeting the nursing needs of the region. The goals of the program are responsive to changing health needs of society and the curriculum provides students with the competencies necessary to deliver quality nursing care.

Acknowledgments

The yearbook staff, Manon Argouin, Wendy Hartley, and Karen Parker would like to express our gratitude to the following contributors:

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg Hospital Authority Administration

Without your vision and dedication none of this could have been possible.

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg Hospital Authority Foundation

Thank you for your generosity; without it, the vision could never have been realized.

CMHA Marketing

Thank you not only for your invaluable input to this publication, but for the photographic documentation of the School
since its founding.

CMHA Audio-Visual Services

We are grateful for your cooperation in helping us obtain last minute
photos under a deadline.

Michael Beard

To our self-appointed historian for the class of 1993;

Thank you for your foresight
in collecting photos of memorable freshman events.
